

Nonviolent Action for Climate Justice

Our world is facing a climate crisis. Many of our sisters and brothers in the Torres Strait and the Pacific are already dealing with the harmful impacts of climate change. So, too are natural treasures like the Great Barrier Reef.

IT'S TIME FOR US TO ACT!

Join other people of faith for training in the practice of nonviolent direct action so that we can challenge leaders in government, business, finance, the media and other parts of society who are propping up the fossil fuel industry and its toxic impacts on the environment and our future.

Saturday 8 April 2017

10 AM – 4 PM

Multi-Faith Centre

Griffith University Nathan Campus

For more information and to RSVP:

http://www.arrcc.org.au/nvda_brisbane

To be true followers of Jesus today also includes embracing his teaching about nonviolence...“For Christians, nonviolence is not merely tactical behaviour but a person’s way of being, the attitude of one who is so convinced of God’s love and power that he or she is not afraid to tackle evil with the weapons of love and truth alone. Love of one’s enemy constitutes the nucleus of the ‘Christian revolution’”.

The decisive and consistent practice of nonviolence has produced impressive results. The Dr Martin Luther King Jr in combating racial discrimination will never be forgotten...

- Pope Francis Message for World Day of Peace 2017

This event is hosted by the Australian Religious Response to Climate Change (ARRCC) and will be facilitated by Jason MacLeod and Penny Barringham from Pace e Bene.

The Catholic Justice & Peace Commission of Brisbane encourages participation by Catholics and people of faith in this training.

